Christian Endeavor

By REXFORD L. HOLMES, President of the District of Columbia Christian Endeavor Union,

Christian Endeavor topic for Sunday, May 4, 1913.—The Ideal Christian. V. His Prayers.-Matt. 6: 5-13. (Conseration meeting.)

wonderful "shortest prayer," Like, xviii:13; Genesis, xviii:28; xxxii:24-28; 1f Samuel, vii:18; I Kings, iii:6-7; Eza. ix-6; Matthew, vi:9; Ephesians, iii:14; John, xvii:1; a large number of the Psalm, and many other passages.

REGULAR PRAYER.

In I Thess. v:17 we find the injunction "pray without ceasing." Of course, this does not mean that one is to pray all the time, but the lesson is clear that often, in time of sorrow, or disappointment, or trouble, or gladness, or rejoicing, the heart should be lifted for a moment to the Ruler of mensidestinies and the Giver of every good gift. Prayer should be regular. We should have as regular seasons of prayer the early morning, before starting the affairs of the day, and the eventime, when the day's work is done. The saying of grace before meals is a splendid habit for every Christian to cultivate. This may be done whether in the privacy of the home or in the crowded cafe. It need not be an outward exhibition, but a brief petition of thanks for blessings received and for guidance through the day.

ATTITUDE DURING PRAYER.

Had Opened Their Treasures, They Presented Unite Him Gifting Gold, Prankincense and Myrrh,"—Matthew ii, 11.

| Application of the Present of Myrrh, Application ATTITUDE DURING PRAYER.

BIBLE PRAYERS.

In discussing the important Christian Endeavor piedge-point 'of prayer, we can well consider in the first place the "model prayer" which was given to His disciples by the Master Himself. In this outline for prayer Jesus iaid down the fundamental principles whereon all of our petitions may be based. He did not mean that we should pray this particular prayer and no other, but he was merely teaching His disciples as a father teaches his little children a primary and fundamental lesson in the approaching of God through prayer.

In addition to the Lord's Prayer, other interesting Bible prayers are the wonderful "shortest prayer," Linke, xviii:13; Genesis, xviii:28; xxxiii:24-28; 11 prayer.

wonderful "shortest prayer." Linke, viii:13: Genesis, xviii:23: fxxii:24-25: 11 Samuel, vii:18: I Kings, iii:36-7; Esta, ix.56; Matthew, vi:2: Ephesians, iii:34: John, xvii:1; a large number of the Psalm, and many other passages.

FAMILY PRAYER.

One form of prayer which in these days is being neglected is the family devotion. How sweet it is, how spandid, when the little family, which is the unit of American civilization, gathers early in the morning for a brief period of Bible reading and prayer, and then again at the eventide with the lights turned low offers its united thanks for the successes and blessings of the day, and its prayer for protection through the night, and for guidance in the days to come. Such a family, we believe, can rever be separated in love and spirit. Have we not right here the panacea for the ills of American family life, the remedy for the divorce evil? God grant that the American family may come back to him through the family prayer circle, and do it quickly!

explanation?
Shall we not close with the beautiful prayer of the beloved poet, James Whitcomb Riley, which he has given us in verse: Dear Lord, kind Lord, Gracious Lord, I pray

Thou wilt look on all I love
Tenderly today.

Weed their hearts of wearine Scatter every care Down a wake of angel wings Winnowing the air.
